

Powder Horns, Powder Cans, Flasks & Hunting Pouches

Drums A'Beating, Trumpets Sounding#Book-DATS
Artistically Carved Powder Horns in the Provincial Manner, 1746-1781
 by William H. Guthman

Magnificent photographs of decorated powder horns from America's early era of 1746 until 1781. 114 original horns are shown with details on each maker, period, materials and decorations. Hard bound, 232 pages.

#Book-DATS Drums A'Beating, Trumpets Sounding only $75.00

Powder Horns and their Architecture #Book-PHAA
 by Madison Grant

The book is devoted to the most basic and necessary accoutrement of the muzzle loader, the powder horn. Primitive homemade horns from the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries is the main focus of this well illustrated book. Hard cover, 165 pages, with over 300 illustrations.

#Book-PHAA Powder Horns and their Architecture only $36.00

Engraved Powder Horn#Book-EPH
 by Jim Dresslar, photos by David Wesbrook

This amazing volume shows dozens of original horns in full color with full page views and large close-ups. Historical data is included with each horn, including origin, maker, owner and more. Hard bound, 255 pages, full color.

#Book-EPH Engraved Powder Horn only $79.99

The Kentucky Rifle Hunting Pouch#Book-KRHP
 by Madison Grant

Madison Grant presents an overview of the history, style and function of the hunting pouch as an indispensable associate of the muzzle loading rifle. Over two hundred examples of individual pouches and accoutrements they carried are pictured and described. Hard cover, 8-1/2 x 11", 207 pages, with 134 illustrations.

#Book-KRHP Kentucky Rifle Hunting Pouch only $36.00

Gunpowder Cans & Kegs#Book-GPCK
 by Ted Bacyk, David Bacyk, & Tom Rowe

The book on powder cans and kegs. Information includes history of the mills, dates of production, rarity scale, values and dimensions. Companies include the American Powder Mills, Hazard, Laffin & Rand, DuPont, and Massachusetts Powder Works to name a few. Hardcover, 268 pages, color photos.

#Book-GPCK Gun Powder Cans & Kegs only $59.99

Gunpowder Cans & Kegs, Volume 2 #Book-GPCK-V2
 by Ted Bacyk, David Bacyk, & Tom Rowe

Old powder cans and kegs are colorful, historical and highly collectible, catering to a variety of interests. This book is focused on the smaller companies, the retailers, and the agents that were such an important part of the gunpowder trade. Hardcover, 312 pages, full color.

#Book-GPCK-V2 Gun Powder Cans & Kegs 2 only $69.99

Prices are subject to change without notice, current pricing is shown at:

www.trackofthewolf.com

Recreating the 18th Century Powder Horn#Book-R18CPH
 by Scott & Cathy Sibley

Artisans Scott and Cathy Sibley demonstrate every detail and secret of recreating an 18th century powder horn, including selecting a horn, fitting a plug, carving the neck, antiquing, and scrimshaw engraving. Heavily illustrated with step-by-step, close-up color photographs. Soft cover, 11 x 8-1/2" format, 92 pages, full color, on fine paper.

#Book-R18CPH Recreating 18th c. Powder Horn only $19.95

Recreating the 18th Century Hunting Pouch#Book-R18C-HP
 by T. C. Albert

Leather artist T. C. Albert describes step-by-step how to create and antique a fine leather hunting pouch. Begin by choosing the leather, designing a pattern, and assembling the proper tools. Learn to cut and sew leather, create your own natural dye, and how to age and distress the finished pouch. Ryan Gale's amazing color photos include several images and details of twenty very scarce original 18th and 19th century leather pouches, courtesy of collector Al Rehder. Concise line art includes several patterns for creating your own leather pouch. Soft cover, 11 x 8-1/2" format, 128 pages, full color, on fine paper.

#Book-R18C-HP Recreating 18th c. Hunting Pouch only $25.95

Powder Horns, Documents of History#Book-PH
 by Tom Grinslade

Includes more than 430 full color photographs of original 18th and 19th century powder horns. Concise background text bring the artwork of the horns and their historic context into focus. Soft cover, 170 pages, 8-1/2" by 11" format.

#Book-PH Powder Horns, Documents of History only $37.50