

Buttplate, wax cast brass or iron #BP-Eng-1-B or I
 Pear shaped oval, used on early halfstock English rifles and fowlers of the 1790-1830 period, late flint or early percussion.
 We have examined a late flint fowler, marked Patrick, halfstock with pewter forend cap, tapered octagon-to-round barrel, with wedding band, in 20 gauge. Our octagon-to-round 36" barrel would match that antique barrel, if shortened to 33" length.

#BP-Eng-1-B buttplate, wax cast brass only $34.99
#BP-Eng-1-I buttplate, wax cast steel only $21.99

Grip Cap, sunburst, steel:

Convex oval pistol grip cap, wax cast steel, with sunburst pattern molded into the outer surface, spotted for an unplated steel screw, sold separately.

Many English target rifles, sporting rifles, percussion shotguns, and single-shot cartridge rifles were made with a pistol grip stocks.

If you need a grip cap for the pistol grip of your next gun building project, consider this attractive steel sunburst cap. The flat rim on the underside makes installation easy.

#BP-GC-Sun-I iron only $10.99
 #6 5/8" wood screw.
#Screw-6x5/8 screw only $.20

©2012, Track of the Wolf, Inc.

shown actual size
 Made in the U.S.A.

#BP-Eng-1-(B or I)
 brass $34.99
 iron $21.99

Buttplate, wax cast brass or iron#BP-Eng-2-B or I Classic square oval shape, used on percussion English rifles and shotguns of the 1830-1880 period. Notice that English buttplates have a "hook" under the front comb. It hooks under the edge of a wood screw, concealed in the inletting.

#BP-Eng-2-B wax cast brass only $27.50
#BP-Eng-2-I wax cast steel only $20.99

Grip Cap, wax cast steel:

Pistol grip cap, in the style of Alexander Henry, the famous London maker of percussion and early cartridge firearms. Wax cast steel, with concave molded edge. Spotted for mounting screw, sold separately.

Most English Sporting Rifles and Shotguns were straight gripped, but many target rifles had a pistol grip. Remove the rear mounting tab from our English "grip rail" triggerguard, to inlet the grip rail into your pistol grip stock. Wax cast steel.

#BP-GC-Henry-I iron only $10.99
 #6 5/8" wood screw.
#Screw-6x5/8 screw only $.20

#BP-Eng-2-B or I
 brass $27.50
 iron $20.99

#BP-GC-Henry- I
 iron $10.99