Northwest Trade Gun Rod Pipes............................................ #RP-NW-F-6-B
Our ribbed brass ramrod pipes fit a 3/8" ramrod. Made like the originals, our ramrod pipes have corrugated raised ribs and grooves, to strengthen the thin brass, to prevent dents, during handling and hard use.

Northwest Trade Gun Buttpipe............................................. #BP-NW-1-B
Northwest Trade Gun ramrod pipe, each
- only $2.59

Northwest Trade Gun Triggerguard........................................... #TG-NW-1-I
Typically surface mounted, or very slightly inlet under the wrist of a Northwest Trade Gun, this iron triggerguard has a large trigger bow.
- $18.99

Northwest Trade Gun barrel:
Our 42" tapered octagon-to-round 20 (.615"), 24 (.580") or 28 (.550) gauge barrel is cylinder bored, 1" octagon at the breech, with .550" thread depth for 3-4/16 plug. Crowned, with wedding band. 20 gauge is also offered in 36" or 30" length.
- only $179.00
- only $179.00
- only $179.00
- only $179.00

Nails for Northwest Trade Gun Buttplates:
Many trade gun buttplates used nails instead of screws. Pre-drill a undersize hole when installing in the end grain of the stock. Our cut steel nails are 1" long. Pack of 25.
- only $ 1.99

Tryon flint lock for Northwest Trade Gun ... #Lock-Tryon
Our Tryon flint lock has a fly in the tumbler, and a strong mainspring. Made in the U.S.A., you may engrave the unmarked plate. Made to fit the inlet for the LOTT lock from Italy, the Tryon lock is ideal for use in upgrading older guns, including North Star trade guns.
- only $145.99

Northwest Trade Gun Stocks:
Original Northwest Trade Guns are stocked in walnut, beech, apple, pear, and a variety of other hardwood species. Apparently none were every stocked in figured wood. Strong straight grain wood was selected by the gun makers of the era. Avoid the temptation to use highly figured wood. Curly maple is an excellent choice for a longrifle, but collectors and serious re-enactors now recognize it as an error on trade guns.
- only $270.00
- only $8.99
- only $5.99

Ramrod pipes have corrugated raised ribs and grooves, to strengthen the thin brass, to prevent dents, during handling and hard use.

Plug, 1" octagon, 3/4-16, .550" journal
- only $ 9.99

Install breech plug, fitted correctly
- only $ 25.00

Install lug or sight, soldered, each
- only $ 20.00

Northwest Trade Gun Stocks:
Original Northwest Trade Guns are stocked in walnut, beech, apple, pear, and a variety of other hardwood species. Apparently none were every stocked in figured wood. Strong straight grain wood was selected by the gun makers of the era. Avoid the temptation to use highly figured wood. Curly maple is an excellent choice for a longrifle, but collectors and serious re-enactors now recognize it as an error on trade guns.
- only $220.00
- only $270.00