Siler's large cap lock, right or left hand..#Lock-SL-CL-RH or LH
Identical to our Siler flint lock, except percussion. Order our 1/2" diameter drum, #Drum-85-F-L, and an #RST-1/4-28 nipple.
When making a gun with interchangeable flint and percussion locks, fit the percussion lock first. Drum location is critical. It must fit the plate notch, and must be supported when the hammer falls.

The drum must turn in to the correct nipple angle, then stop. This is easily accomplished with the above drum and our #Tool-Drum drilling jig. No file fitting will be needed.

Siler's right hand Mountain cap lock is a classic percussion lock, circa 1830 to 1850, with rounded tail, notched for a 1/2" powder drum.
Based on Siler's best large internal parts, it is a reliable choice for a late percussion longrifle, early Plains rifle, or an Ohio rifle.
All internal parts are the same as the large Siler right hand cap lock, with the exception of these two pieces listed below:
