Brown Bess Musket trigger plate:
- Used on almost every variation of First Model Brown Bess, 1728, 1742, 1746, & 1755. Directly molded from an original 1746 Brown Bess musket trigger plate. Wax cast in brass only. Slot is offset slight to right, as found on the original.
- #TR-Bess-46-P trigger plate, brass only $8.99

Brown Bess Musket trigger:
- Molded directly from an original First Model Brown Bess trigger, use our trigger and plate on a military musket or a fowling gun.
- #TR-Bess-46-T trigger for Brown Bess, steel only $6.99

Trigger plate, U.S. Model 1803 “Harper’s Ferry” rifle:
- Copied from original trigger plates, the first variation is longer, for 1803 through 1806 dated rifles.
- #TR-1803-P trigger plate, brass only $9.99
- #TR-1803-T trigger only $6.99
- #TR-1803-P trigger plate, slotted only $7.99

Trigger for U. S. Model 1803 “Harper’s Ferry” rifle:
- Wax cast steel copies of original antique triggers. Triggers from 1803 through 1806 rifles have only 1/3 web behind the trigger, while triggers from 1814 through 1819 have a full 2/3 web behind trigger.
- #TR-1803-T trigger, U. S. Model 1803, short web only $6.99

Trigger for North West Trade Gun:
- This trigger design is commonly found on 1840 and earlier trade guns. The trigger can be pinned directly to the wood, the correct early technique, which generally produces the best geometry for easy trigger release. This trigger is about .105" thick, as cast. We like the shape of this trigger for Northwest Trade Guns, early fusils, and similar flint fowling guns, longrifles, and muskets. Wax cast steel.
- #TR-NW-3-T trigger only, steel only $7.99

Trigger plate for French Type ‘C’ and Type ‘D’ trade fusils:
- Made for the French Type C and Type D trade fusils, this wax cast brass trigger plate has a double thickness round lug for the tang screw cast into the back surface. Slot is square and crisp. The slot is .095" wide, and must be lightly polished before assembly. Pivot point is clearly marked in this steel wax casting.
- #TR-G-296-P trigger plate $13.99
- #TR-G-296-T trigger $13.99
- #TR-Fusil-C-T trigger only, steel $6.99
- #TR-Fusil-D-T trigger only, for ‘D’ fusil only $6.99

Brown Bess Musket trigger:
- Used on almost every variation of 1728, 1742, 1746, & 1755. Directly molded from an original plate. Wax cast in brass as found on the original.
- #TR-Bess-46-P trigger plate, brass only $8.99

Brown Bess Musket trigger:
- Molded directly from an original First Model Brown Bess trigger, use our trigger and plate on a military musket or a fowling gun.
- #TR-Bess-46-T trigger for Brown Bess, steel only $6.99

Trigger for French Type ‘C’ and ‘D’ trade fusils:
- Notice the curled end. Early Type C fusils were fancier than later Type D fusils. This curled trigger will be pretty on an early flint longrifle, or a smooth bore flint fowling gun.
- #TR-Fusil-C-T trigger only, for ‘C’, with curl only $6.99
- #TR-Fusil-D-T trigger only, for ‘D’ fusil only $6.99

©2012, Track of the Wolf, Inc.

Shown actual size
Made in the U.S.A.